Dear Mr. Burleigh:

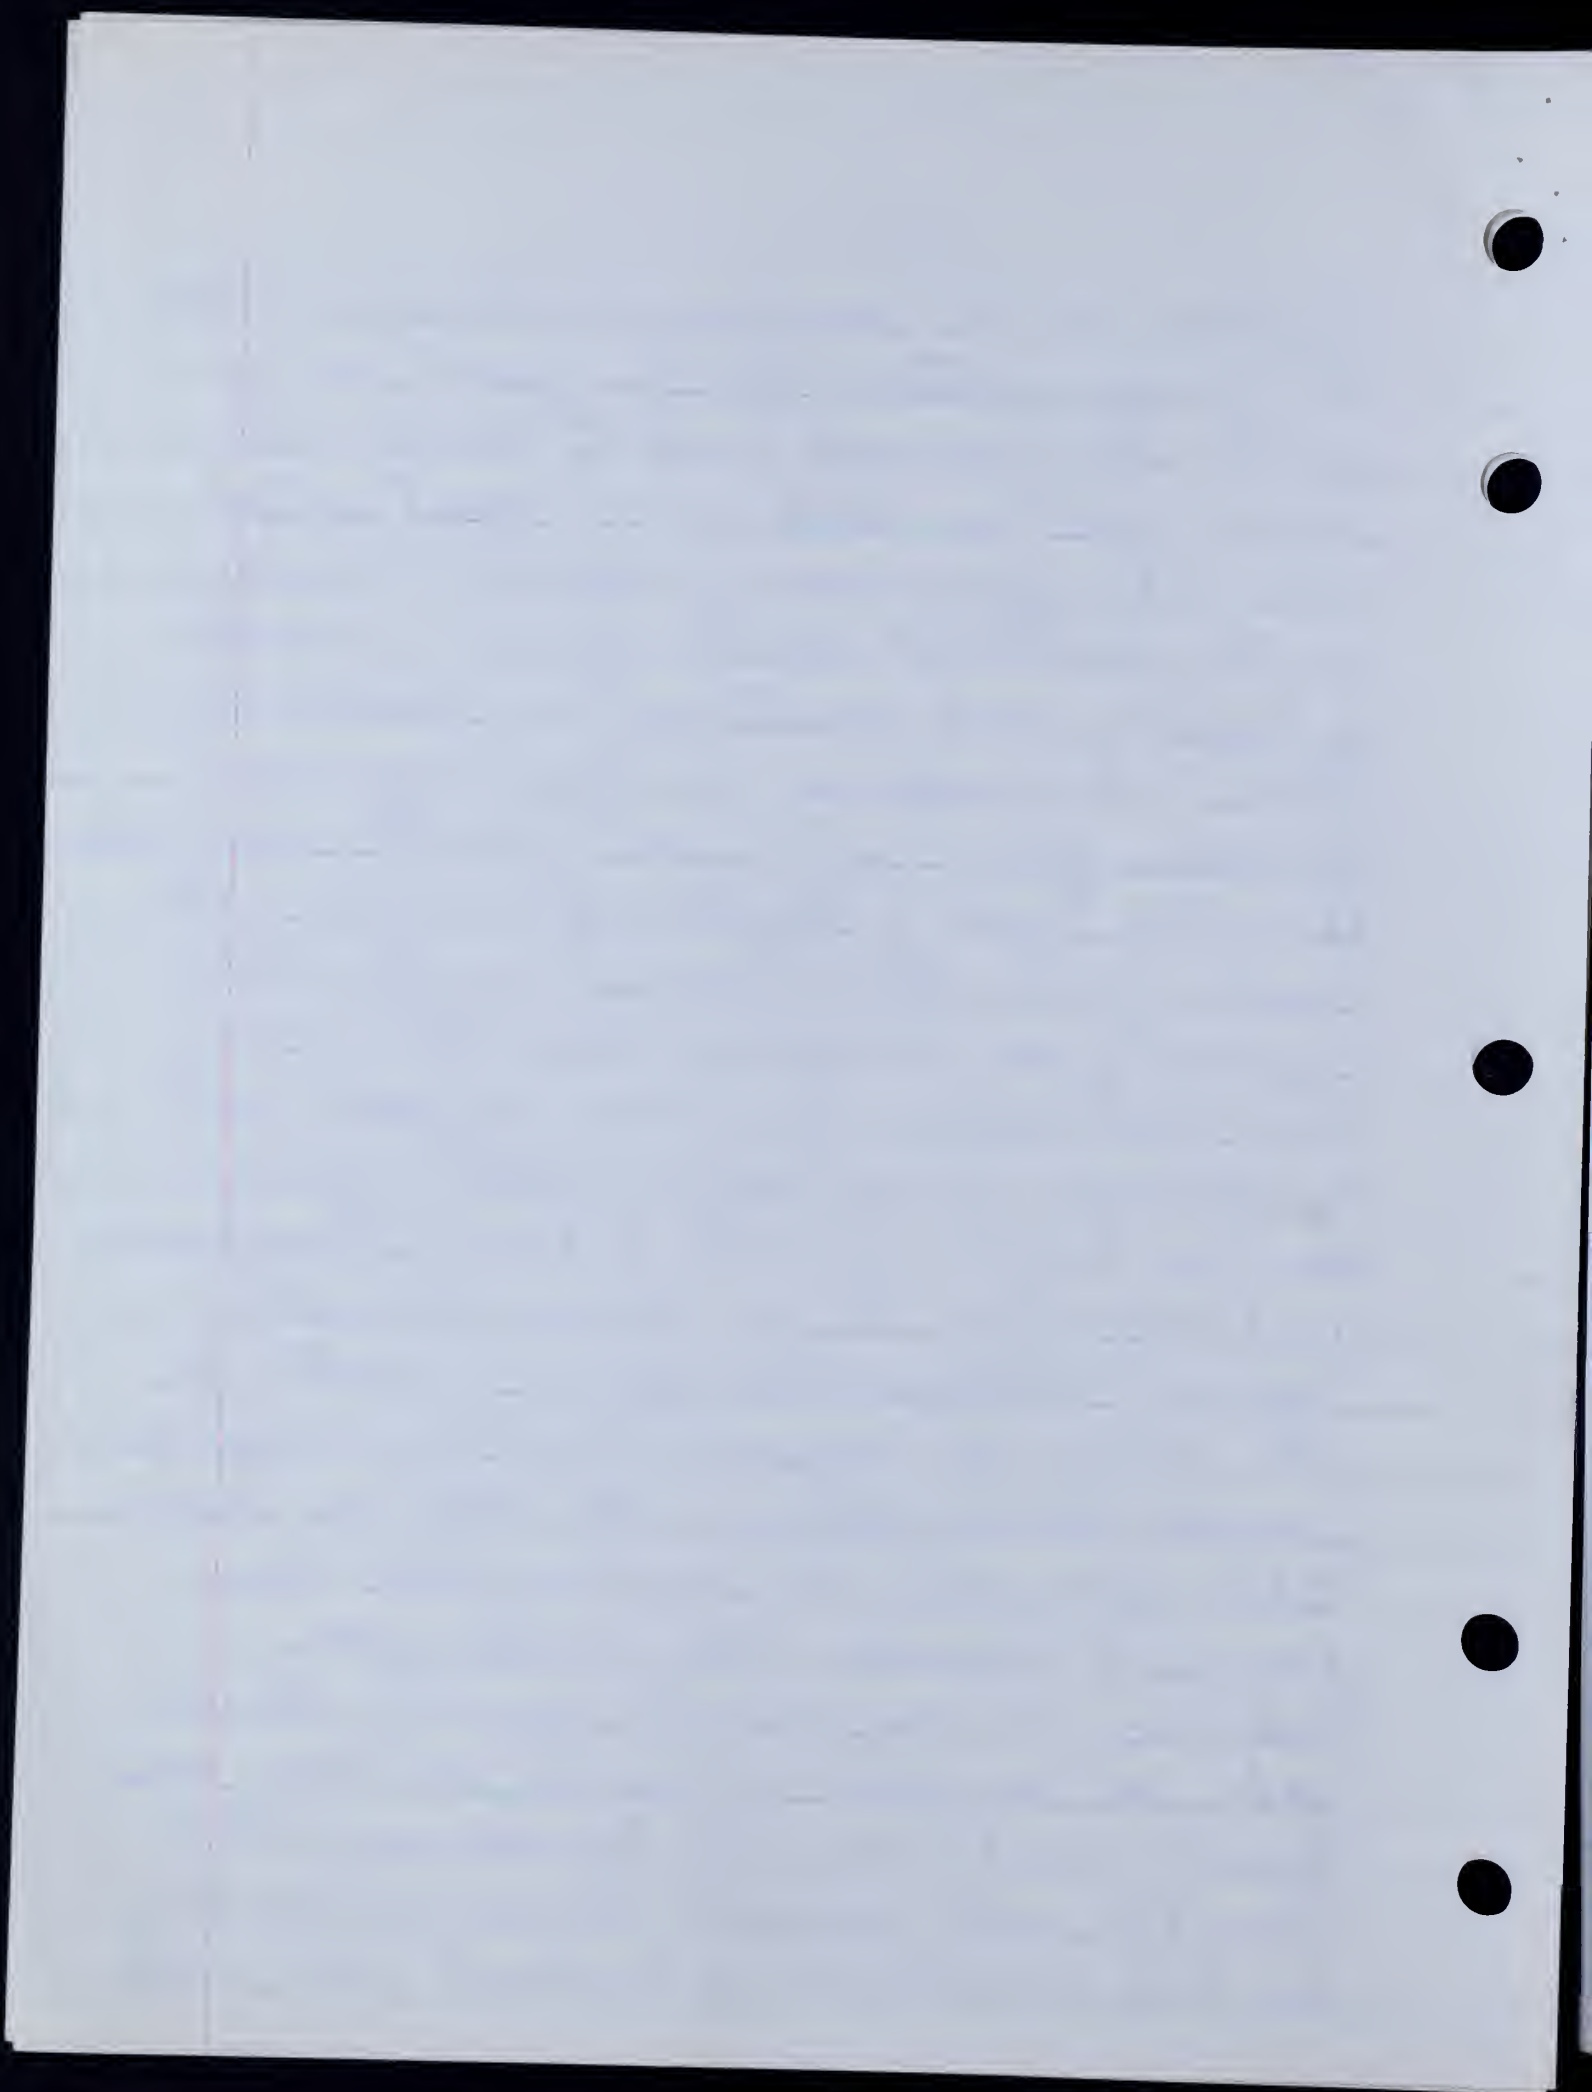

Thank you deeply for your great kindness and your scholarly helpfulness with respect for and to my Ancestors, the William Browns and the much loved McCaughans

Certainly, I am strongly inclined to feel that Nelson Brown is Joseph Allison's Brother. He was rather young - ca. 15 - to be recruited on trial in 1846, but in an age when twelve year old boys fought with grown men on battlefields, perhaps it wasn't so young after all. I shall look forward eagerly to hearing what is known of his family in the Methodist Archives in Toronto. I have a friend in Toronto: John A. McCaughan, 21 Hambley Ave., Toronto 13. He is very much interested in my McCaughan family and feels they are relatives of his own McCaughans. I feel sure he will be most happy to consult records in the Archives for us, should you care to call upon him. If your Archives are as slow in responding as mine, John would certainly be a swifter and more interested respondant!

Do not concern yourself should the Census disclose no McCaughans or Browns. Every bit of information at this point is a giant step forward and to know they were not in Bath is a giant step - i.e. the appearance of Daniel Mc Mullen in the Methodist data. There's a wealth of mystery and excitement in researching these McCaughans in Tennessee and Canada. John and I just recently recovered the 1806 will of Captain John Nevin, the leader of the Rebel forces in the 1798 Uprising in Ireland. And where did he come when he was shipped out of Coleraine in a barrel with a price on his head? Directly to our McCaughans in Knoxville, Tenn. Daniel Mc Mullen married Catherine McCaughan, a sister of the father of Margaret Usabella, wife of Joseph Allison Brown. She died in 1844. That year, John McCaughan took his family to Canada. Now, switch your attention to my friend, possibly cousin, John McCaughan of Toronto, Canada. His Great Aunt came to Canada in 1848. In 1850, she married Daniel Mc Mullen, An old sweetheart in Ireland who had Come to America earlier because this great Aunt's family objected to his marrying her. No one has been able to locate Daniel Mc Mullen's grave in Tennessee, though his first two wives are buried side by side in Old Gray Cemetery in Knoxville. It tells me that he went to Canada with my John McCaughan and married his old sweetheart there!

Our McCaughans (the younger set) sold lands in Croaghmore in 1819. These lands were close to the home of Captain Nevins.

Now the 1880, Tennessee Census, reports Joseph Allison Brown and his parents as having been born in Canada. They were well established there. The family has long recounted that Madame Brown, Joseph Allison's mother, took no trouble to hide the fact that she considered her eldest son's marriage quite beneath him. Why? The McCaughans were deeply religious, well educated, and of considerable means. They were called the "linen dukes of Ireland". They gave the land for Ebenezer's first Church - Methodist,

Although the Mc Caughans were Presbyterians.
They were the first family to be buried there - It would appear that Joseph Allison made an excellent marriage choice.
Why would Madame Brown disapprove?
Was she married (Usabella) in Bath because of this? John Mc Caughan of Toronto has a paternal grandmother
Rose Black who married a Mc Calister.
Perhaps our Minister in Bath was related to these Blacks. Perhaps that's why the marriage took place in Bath. How far is Lennox Co. from Bath? Lennox Co. was the home of Toronto John's great Aunt who married Daniel Mc Mullen in 1850.

The Mc Caughys were an entirely different family. Our Mc Caughans Always use the "An, in, en" endings - since 1200 B.C.
The original Name in Scotland "Mc Cathain".
My mother Always used that Name in referring to them - They lived in Wigton or Wigtonshire, Scotland before coming to Ireland at the (my) plantation -

I hope you are enjoying this. I am! I'm not violently interested in vital statistics. I want to know about my people: who loved whom, what they dreamed about, why they came to America (not just when) why they fought (not just what battles and what pension papers)

I want to know why Madame Brown looked down on those magnificent McCaughans. Unincidentally, our original Ancestors in Scotland, according to family legends, ~~were~~^{were} supposed to be Jane Miller and Samuel Gray and our first ones in Tennessee John Miller and Robert Gray. Makes this Nelson Brown business look even more likely -

Yes, I am holding onto my hat - If one gets mixed up with the McCaughans and Browns the unexpected becomes commonplace!

Sincerely

Lydia Huggins

Yes, Hastings Co. looks like an excellent place for further research - But our Joseph Allison Brown wasn't there in 1860. He was a blacksmith in Louisville Tennessee -

Hear Mr. Burleigh:

You underestimate me. I don't discourage that easily. I'll write this note on notebook paper so it can be easily filed. First, the answer to your questions:

The McCaughans owned land in Canada. John McCaughan's father was there from about 1818, to sometime in 1820, when he brought his family to Tennessee via wagon train. The mile long approach to the Ancestral home, Maple Grove, was bordered by Canadian Maples brought from Canada by wagon. Glennis and his wife, Usabella (family Name Unknown) were married in Croaghmore, Bushmills, Co. Antrim. Issue (all born Ireland)
1. John, 1796, 2. Thomas, 1798, 3. Jane, 1803, and 4. Catherine, 1804.

John married Margaret Ann Gray, daughter of Robert Gray in Tennessee, July 7, 1824, Security Charles Shelly.

Thomas did not marry

Jane M. April 28, 1825, Knox Co. Tenn. - Moses Martin Swan. Bondsman, James Low
Catherine McCaughan M. Aug. 28, 1828, Daniel McCullan. Bondsman: James Harris.

Handwritten text on lined paper, likely a notebook page. The text is written in cursive and spans multiple lines. The page is slightly aged and shows some wear. There are faint circular marks on the right edge, possibly from a binder or punch holes.

1. John McCaughan and Margaret Ann Gray had the following Children:
 1. Jane b. 1825 - d. Aug. 13, 1827, Buried at Ancestral home.
 2. Margaret Ursabella b. 1829 - d. 1904 Knox Co. Tenn.
 3. Thomas Matthew Oct. 24, 1830 - May 31, 1864.
M. in Knox Co., Tenn., 1847, Margaret Jane Rupe.
3. Jane McCaughan died May 26, 1855, in Knoxville, Tenn. She and Moses Martin Swan Sept. 29, 1802 - Aug. 28, 1861, had six children:
Thomas 1826, William Lanson 1828, John Klungan 1830, Moses Martin 1831, Christian J. 1837, Samuel Harvey 1839.
4. Catherine McCaughan June 5, 1807 - Jan. 5, 1844
And Kaniel McCullan had: John 1829,
James M. 1838, Mary Jane 1835.

Kennis McCaughan, father of John McCaughan, died 1839 and is buried at family home, Tennessee. The eldest son, said John, moved his family in 1844 to Canada it would seem to take up his father's lands there. The reason I think we'll find the Browns in Bath and the McCaughans is the record of the marriage of Joseph Allison Brown

William Joseph Brown and Charlotte Hannah Brown were born in Canada; ^{perhaps also John Thomas -} the others in Tennessee. According to Census reports. Joseph Allison Brown was trained to be a blacksmith - when he came to Tennessee from Canada with his family, they settled at Louisville, Tennessee. In 1870, he bought "Maple Grove" and was pastor of the Methodist Church there. Evidently, he didn't like being a blacksmith - I have a document from the Sons of Temperance certifying that Joseph Brown was admitted 5 Oct. 1849, Division No. 19, located in Bath, Canada West. The document states he paid all dues up to 7 Sept., 1850, and was given a withdrawal card. This was signed 11 Sept. 1850, Town of Bath. He was also a Master Mason in Tenn. (perhaps also Canada).

I have complete records to 1964 on Joseph Allison Brown's Children. It's quite a document. They were all married in Tennessee.

It seems the McCaughans didn't go in for vacations, Tennessee census reports "no vacation". The reason I'm so eager to get a census report is to see if John McCaughan and Margaret Ann Gray stayed in Canada. There are no records of them in Tennessee after 1844. My mother said they went back to Ireland. I don't know where she got that idea! I'm of the opinion they stayed in Canada and died there.

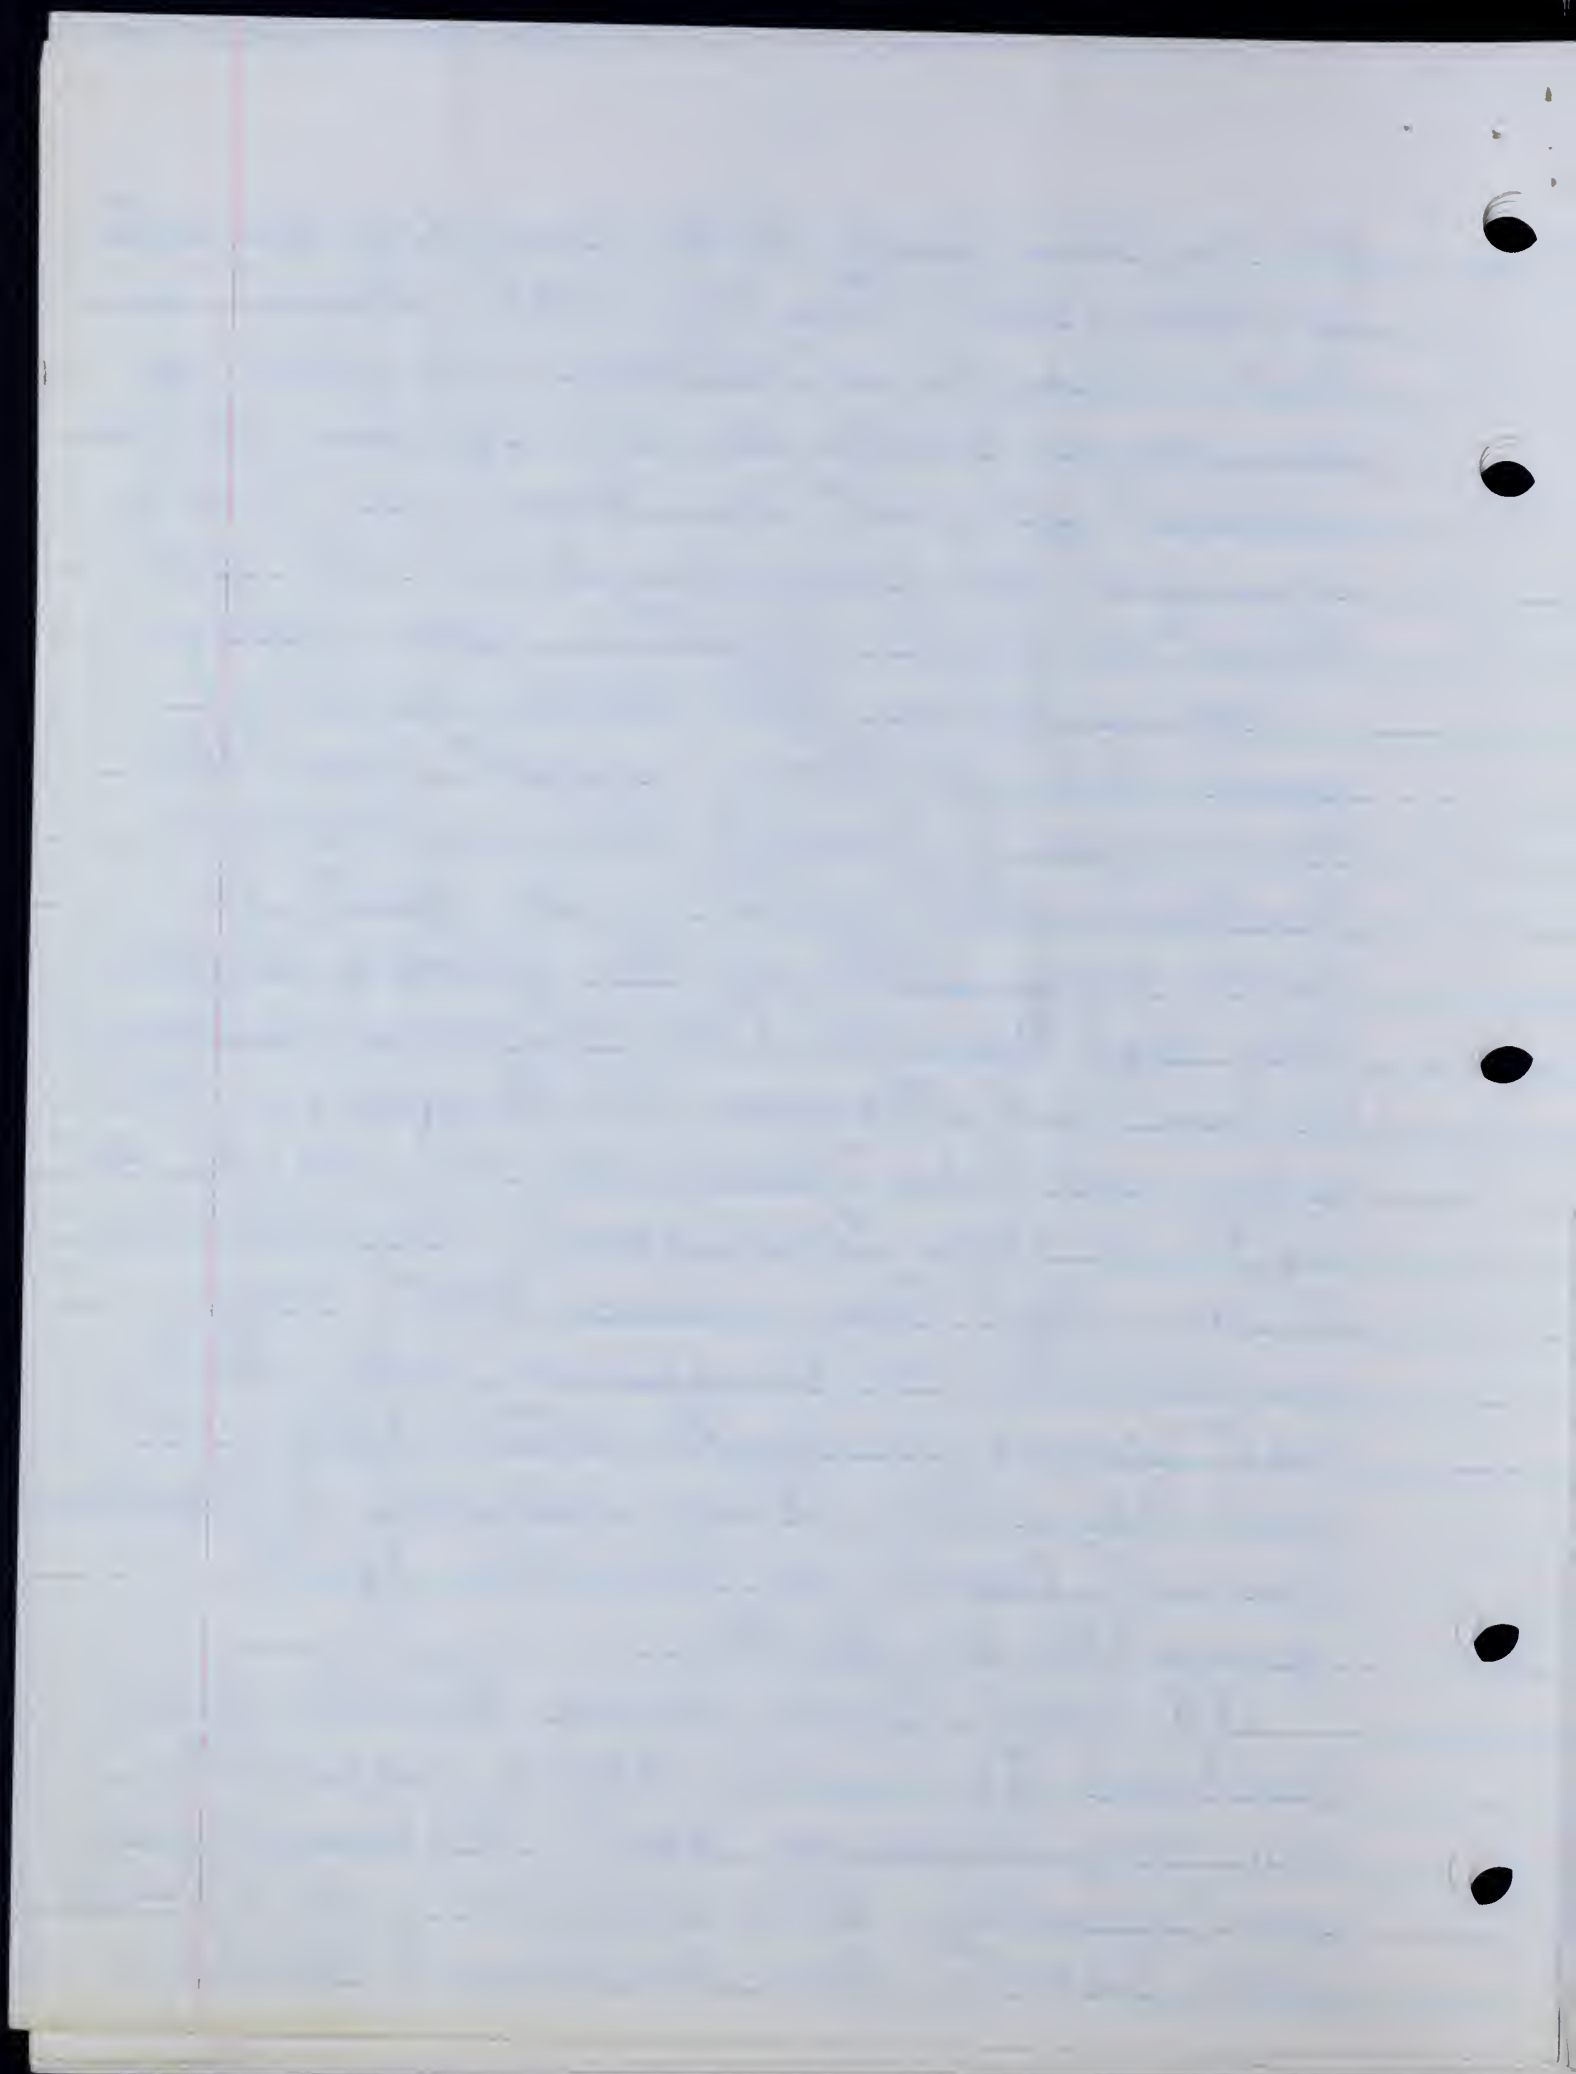

The surname Caughey and McCaughey also Mc-Gaughey is very common in early records in Pennsylvania Kentucky and Tennessee. I used to think they were connected to our McCaughans and took considerable note of them. But they are not. Glenn? No, but I may have materials in some of my source books on it. If these names interest you, let me know as many specifics as possible and I'll get what I have together for you.

Now, I believe that takes care of your six questions - I don't have the marriages of Joseph Allison Brown's brothers and sisters. In fact, I have very little of the family before they left Canada (McCaughans or Browns) Dennis and Thomas McCaughan - also John were in Tennessee as early as 1796. I have land grant records on them. But they were not my immediate McCaughans who did not leave Ireland until after 1817. I've an idea these earlier McCaughans owned land in Canada, quite possibly in Bath.

I'd give three times twenty five dollars to have some records on my Browns and McCaughans in Canada. I'm enclosing a check for twenty-five dollars. Please have the census read for me. If more money is needed, let me know. I hope I haven't smothered you with records. It isn't easy to decide which ones you'll need. These have all been validated except for the name of Joseph Allison Brown's Mother. That's just family tradition. It might interest you to know the family describes her as "dainty, elegant, very snobbish". She considered the marriage of Joseph Allison to the McCaughans as entirely unsuitable!

Thanks for the data on the Allison's. I've an idea they'll prove significant. The Browns always seemed to name first children important family names. Adelia is the one I'm stuck with, but fortunately, I like it.

Sincerely,
Adelia

The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the origin of life. It is shown that the problem is one of the most important and most difficult in the history of science. The author discusses the various theories of the origin of life, and shows that the most plausible is the theory of spontaneous generation. This theory is based on the fact that life is a complex of many different parts, and that these parts are all found in the same place, and at the same time. This is a strong argument in favor of the theory of spontaneous generation.

The second part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence for the theory of spontaneous generation. The author shows that the evidence is very strong, and that it is in favor of the theory of spontaneous generation. He shows that the evidence is based on the fact that life is found in the same place, and at the same time, and that it is found in the same form. This is a strong argument in favor of the theory of spontaneous generation.

The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the implications of the theory of spontaneous generation. The author shows that the theory has many important implications, and that it is one of the most important in the history of science. He shows that the theory is based on the fact that life is a complex of many different parts, and that these parts are all found in the same place, and at the same time. This is a strong argument in favor of the theory of spontaneous generation.

The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the future of the theory of spontaneous generation. The author shows that the theory is still a subject of much interest, and that it is one of the most important in the history of science. He shows that the theory is based on the fact that life is a complex of many different parts, and that these parts are all found in the same place, and at the same time. This is a strong argument in favor of the theory of spontaneous generation.

Dear Mr. Burleigh:

Mr Howard M. Brown of 23 Crescent Heights, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada sent the enclosed notes. I thought they might prove useful to you. You need not return his notes since I made a copy of them for my own files.

It would appear likely that both William Brown's father and perhaps a Dennis McCaughan (in Tenn. 1797) went from New York to Canada during the Revolutionary war. William Brown was born in Canada. John McCaughan, however, was born 1796 in Antrim, Ireland.

Sincerely,
L. Adelia Duggins

Dear Peter,-

Received your letter yesterday and enclosed $1.0 for searching at the archives for information re Brown & Mc Caughane. Thank you very much.

To-day I checked 1861 census
very carefully in Madoc and Thurlow Townships, Hastings County for Wm Brown
& Nelson Brown & Mc Caughane

I found in Thurlow Township

name	Occupation	Birth Place	Religion	age	sex	m.s.
Nelson Brown	Farmer	W Canada	Em	37	m	Married
Mary Brown	"	"	"	28	f	"

It seems this Nelson Brown is not a woman and he is too old. He should be 30 years of age

2/ In Madoc 1861 I found a Wm. Brown Farmer (not carpenter) Birth place Ireland his age 67. — His wife's name was Mary children Wm, Agnes wife Agnes etc. But this does not fit at all.

I was very much surprised when you stated that Nelson B. was a yeoman but I did find a few yeomen when searching.

I am only too glad to do this work for you. I rather like it. I expect to be going to England in May. So I can do any work you want me to before that. I am terribly sorry I haven't been able to find what you want. But rest assured I looked thoroughly. I worked from 10.00 to 1.00.

John is terribly busy working on his thesis. The Hoggs are going to England in April and intend taking side trips to Scotland, Belgium & Holland.

With best wishes
Joan

Dear Mr. Burling:

I thought these records
would be of interest to you.

The Comptons split up during the Rev. war. Some remained loyalists and removed to Canada.
It's especially interesting that the Comptons, Browns, and Hensons all seem to have lived in Kent, England.

Dear Peter, -

Just arrived home from the Archives. I hope you won't be too disappointed but I searched the census records of ¹⁸⁵¹
for William Joseph Brown born 1795 his wife Charlotte born 1805 and children but found no record.
Also I searched for the name Mc Gauchan with no results. I looked for their names in Ernestown,
Amherst Island, Fredericksburgh (north & south) and Adolphustown townships. But I did find your name in Amherst Island &
Geo Bristol, wife & family in Fredericksburgh

I worked from 10 o'clock until 3.
If you want me to do more I will gladly do it. The weather never bothers me.

Just got a letter from John
-he says he just got a letter from Dr. Tupper of Carlton who read his (John's) in New Delhi at Geological Conference. Mr. Tupper said there was good attendance and the paper was well received and there was much discussion. John wanted so badly to attend the conference and read his own paper.

We are getting some nice days now but we certainly had a cold snowy February.

Give my love to Dorothy and the others

Sincerely
Joan K.

Dear Miss Duggins:

I think that I had better reply to your letter of 29th ult., with check enclosed, before you begin to think that I have absconded.

I have asked my researcher in Ottawa to look into the local census records of 1851 for both Brown and McCaughan. These will include Bath, and townships of Ernesttown, Ankerst Island, Fredericksburgh & Adolphustown. Frankly, I am not too optimistic as to results. Subsequent research seems to indicate that these families did not belong in this immediate vicinity, even though the marriage took place here. I feel that you will agree with me after I have gone a little further in this letter.

Since receiving your letter I have gone very thoroughly into our church records (no Methodist), cemetery records of this and neighboring counties, land records, etc., and have failed to find anything of interest in this immediate vicinity. Admittedly, the Brown-McCaughan marriage took place in Bath. The two witnesses, Orrin Wood and Ezra D. Priest, are well known. The latter was a merchant here in the village. I found that John Black, the officiating clergyman, was in 1850 stationed in Japanee, and must have come down to Bath in the absence of the local minister. It is very definite that the Browns were not living in the village of Bath in 1851, as I have a list of the occupants of the houses, with the year of erection. Therefore, barring what my searcher may find, I feel that we must look further afield, possibly in Hastings County, thirty miles to the westward.

Noting that Joseph Allison Brown was a Methodist minister, I looked into the several books in my library on the activities of that sect. I am enclosing the result. It is quite enlightening to find a Nelson Brown as a Methodist minister. He may not belong, but I feel like considering him worthy of tentative inclusion. It is suspicious, also, to find that a Daniel Scullen was an early Methodist minister in this area. Incidentally, I am writing to the Methodist Archives, in Toronto, for information on Nelson Brown and his ancestry. It should tell whether or not he belongs.

The very interesting thing about the vocalist, Edith J. Miller, who married Mr. Colyer Ferguson, is that there is a lengthy item about her husband's family in Burke's Landed Gentry. If you think that she belongs to your Browns, you can look it up.

In the meantime, hang on your hat. Anything can happen.

Yours sincerely,

Letter 1 Mar / 65

Chapter II. p. 25. METHODISTS.

The Rev. William Brown, of the Rideau, was a member of the first class organized in that section, the number in the class being five. From this little acorn, the reverend gentleman lived to see arise and flourish the sturdy oak of Methodism, whose ample branches proved the resting-place of thousands.

William Brown was born in Dutchess County, August 27th, 1769. He came to Canada in 1795, and first settled not far from the St. Lawrence, on the town line between Augusta and Edwardsburg. It is believed that he belonged to the class established by the Weeks. Subsequently he removed to Welford, where he was known as "Priest Brown." He was thrice married, his second wife being a Scotch woman, the widowed mother of the Rev. William Smith. He was a good preacher, plain, clear, chaste, strong, and energetic. A portion of his family settled in South Crosby. Priest Brown was the grandfather of the Rev. William Brown, ~~son~~ of the M. E. Church, Rufus Brown, and Cephas Brown, and the great-grandfather of Arthur Brown, School Inspector of Dundas, and Dr. Brown, of Morrisburg.

In the Minutes of the Conferences of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, 1846-1857, 1849

William Brown was supernumerary minister at Smith's Falls from 1850 to 1857.

This same man is shown as superannuated in 1847, 1848, and, perhaps, settled in Smith's Falls, where he was listed as supernumerary.

BASIC OTOLARYNGOLOGY

DOLOWITZ $13.60

With the increase in improved techniques in otolaryngology, there has arisen a need for better surgical skills through training specialists in the field. Consequently, many patients who are unable to consult a specialist, because of unavailability or distance, turn to their family physicians for care. The physician who takes over the therapy must familiarize himself with the differential diagnosis of otolaryngological problems. He must recognize complications early and obtain help before the situation becomes dangerous.

This new book is written by a specialist for nonspecialists who will be taking on otolaryngological problems. It is a delineation of the surgical anatomy of the ears, nose, and throat and the common and serious diseases affecting them and the other organs depending on them. Methods of testing and examination are described for each disorder, along with the recommended treatment. If surgery is needed, information about the type of surgery necessary is included. This will help the physician to reassure apprehensive patients. Each chapter has a bibliography which enables the physician and student to look up further details of most problems quite easily.

The book covers all recent advances in the field. The present concept of infection in the upper air passages as a dynamic entity is considered. The common cold is discussed (with its physiological pathology starting the symbiotic bacteria into activity and their spread to ear, nose and throat, and complications) and its control. Recent developments in the treatment of impaired hearing either by surgical restoration or education in neural deafness are covered. Tumor care is emphasized on studies of the mouth, larynx, bronchi, and esophagus. There is a complete resume of an endoscopist's concept of the lungs, describing them as a bellows with valves of various types forming in the bronchi altering their local pathology.

In addition, there are other up-to-date chapters discussing the recent cases of dizziness and vertigo, facial paralysis and its etiology, diseases of the salivary glands, headache, and emergency treatment. All of this material has been used successfully in the classroom by the author in the form of lectures. It is well illustrated with concise line drawings and excellent photographs.

GENETICS AND DISEASE

By Alfred G. Knudson, Jr., M.D., Ph.D.

As a result of the recent revolution in biology, new explanations have suddenly emerged for age-old diseases. The discovery of the protective effect offered by some disease-producing genes against malaria has initiated fresh interpretations of the relationship between heredity and environment.

These discoveries have also initiated the creation of Dr. Knudson's fine new book which presents these significant advances in terms of the human diseases familiar to the clinician. A unique feature of this text is its concern with all categories of disease from congenital defects to the degenerative problems of the aged, consistent with the author's belief that all disease can be illuminated when viewed against the background of genetics.

THE MEDICAL MUSE

or What to Do Until the Patient Comes

by RICHARD ARMOUR

with a benign introduction

by Charles W. Mayo, M.D.

and clinical exhibits

by Leo Hershfield

$4.65

Never having taken the Hippocratic oath, Richard Armour has no inhibitions in writing about doctors, nurses, receptionists, patients, hospitals, wonder drugs, wonder druggists, and everything else related to the fascinating and sometimes wacky world of medicine. Using his sharp pen as a scalpel, he operates gleefully and without anesthetic, and leaves only a few hardly noticed scars.

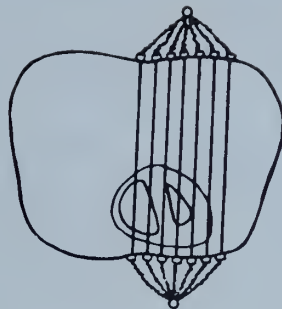

For twelve years, Richard Armour has been a regular contributor to Postgraduate Medicine, a journal known and respected (despite Armour's contributions) throughout the English-speaking world. The only Ph.D. among the M.D.s, he is a doctor who has never lost a patient — or, for that matter, found one.

In the present collection, Armour ranges from urinalysis to psychoanalysis, from the tongue depressor and the enema to the ambulance and the wheel chair, from the femur to the sacroiliac, and from medical meetings to the contents of the doctor's little black bag. You will learn about such astonishing things as what happens to spiders when they are fed hallucinogenic drugs, the relationship of talkativeness to tooth decay, the true significance of a furry tongue, and why you should not put a tourniquet around the patient's neck to stop a nosebleed.

EXAMINATION

of the

CARDIAC PATIENT

Edited by

ALDO A. LUISADA

Professor of Medicine and Director of

Cardiovascular Research

at the Chicago

Medical School.

Possessing adequate knowledge for accurate diagnosis is obviously of utmost importance to any general physician or specialist. The first step in diagnosis is always the medical interview. It is with the initial meeting of the physician and patient that this book begins. Several of the outstanding contributors to this volume investigate the problems of the truly comprehensive interview and examine the probable emotional ramifications of this interview on the mental and physical health of the patient. The scope of the book is very wide, ranging from the most traditional methods of physical examination, such as the study of the pulse and auscultation to the more advanced examination by fluoroscopy and roentgenography.

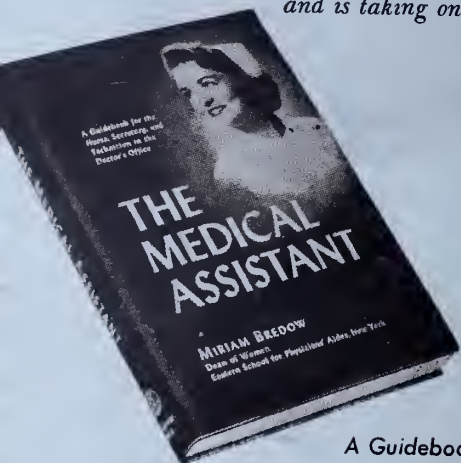

The extensive experience and unusually high level of the contributors to this text distinguish it from similar books in the field of cardiology.

The book is divided into two parts; the first is entitled Examination by Means of the Senses and Related Technical Aids and the second is entitled Additional Methods of Examination, including such techniques as electrocardiography, vectorcardiography, tracings of the venous systems and catheterization of the heart and large vessels. Both general physician and cardiologist will find this book immensely valuable since it contains complete information on general clinical techniques and the more complex methods of examination practiced by the specialist.

"A most thorough and detailed guide for the assistant in the busy doctor's office. . . . This book would be an invaluable aid to one who has had a minimum of practical technical experience, and is taking on the duties of medical assistant."
MODERN MEDICINE

THE MEDICAL ASSISTANT

A Guidebook for the Nurse, Secretary, and Technician in the Doctor's Office

By Miriam Bredow

All those who work in physicians' offices will find that for their many and varied duties, this volume gives the most up-to-date and complete instructions and coverage available.

In this work the author discusses in meticulous detail the entire range of situations in which the physician's nurse, secretary or technician may be called upon to help the doctor in general practice, in special fields, in the laboratory, or in the x-ray department. The book is written to teach what the assistant has to do, to show how she should do it, and to explain why she should do it.

For example, there are pictures of various instruments used in a doctor's office with information about the assistant's responsibilities in relation to these instruments. There is an extremely clear discussion of sterilization procedures. Explicit instructions are given on how to keep records and patient histories, how to fill out hospitalization forms, and how to keep the office books in good order. The book includes comprehensive and clearly written chapters on the assistant's role in First Aid and in surgery performed in the doctor's office, including office anesthesia, dressings, preparation of the patient, and bandages. Other essential instructions are given on urinalysis, hematology, bacteriologic smears, basal metabolism tests, x-rays, and electrocardiography.

SUCCESSFUL SPENDING SAVING & INVESTING

A practical guide for Canadians

By W. REDDIN

$7.50

Here at last is a book that tells you in easy to understand language all you need to know about handling money.

In every area of personal finance, from house-hunting to buying bonds, you get all of the factual information plus the author's tips and helpful interpretations.

For instance, do you know how much it is really costing you for your living accommodations?

"Would you consider moving from a comfortable house with $100. per month mortgage payments to an equally comfortable apartment at $200. per month?" At first there seems no comparison, but on checking the facts we see that the actual monthly cost of running the house in this case can amount to about $270.

This is only one example of the financial know-how you will acquire from this book. Ideas that can save you thousands of dollars.

Mr. Reddin's approach to money-matters provides you with workable methods to define and improve your present situation — to sort out your finances and plan for the future. Many of his findings are presented as the result of his own search for family security. In every instance the facts and presentation have been read and verified by Canadian authorities - involving eighty experts in all.

It's a fact that financial happiness is not related to income level. This one book can arm you with the power to achieve that happiness. Buy a copy for your household — it's a small investment that can provide you with handsome returns.

585 ATLANTIC STREET, BRIDGEPORT, CONNECTICUT 06604

Dear Mr. Burleigh:

Thanks for your very prompt and kind Assistance in my search for Joseph Allison Brown. You've helped tremendously! We've been told and have even read that one could not get Census reports in Canada before 1860 or later. An 1851 Census of Bath would answer a question that's frustrated me for thirty years. My mother always insisted that John McCaughan, father-in-law of Joseph Allison Brown, went back to Scotland. Relatives here insist he is buried in an unmarked grave in our family Cemetery - Uf he's not on the 1851 census, I can at least, eliminate one possibility. Besides, Joseph Allison Brown's father will be on that list and perhaps even his father since both William Brown and his son, Joseph Allison were born in Canada.

Please help me with one more thing: Tell me how I can get the 1851 census in Bath read for William Joseph Brown Nov. 30, 1795 - Aug. 16, 1866 and his wife Charlotte Hannah Allison March 30, 1805 - March 12, 1886; Children Arville 1824, Nelson 1831, William O. 1835, Margaret Ann 1839, Sue Jane 1843, and Henry 1846. As you see, several of these

LYDIA A. DUGGINS

585 ATLANTIC STREET, BRIDGEPORT, CONNECTICUT 06604

Children would still be living with their parents in 1851, and even in 1861-

Also if John McCaughan b. 1796 and wife Margaret Ann Gray b. 1800 were in Canada after the Browns came back to Tennessee, he, too, would appear on this Census. I'll keep the dates on William Brown and wife Elizabeth. They are most likely to be some of ours.

Also: do you have any dates on this early settler, Joseph Allison? I'd pay almost any reasonable cost to have this Census read for these names because I'm desperate. I can't have this

ABRAHAM BROWN, U. E.

Abraham Brown was a member of a party under the leadership of Ebenezer and Edward Jessup who fled through the woods from Saratoga to Crown Point, on Lake Champlain, where they enlisted on 4 Nov., 1776, in the King's Loyal Americans, under the command of Lieut. Col. Ebenezer Jessup.

After wintering at Point Clair, Que., he participated in the Campaign of 1777, under the command of Lieut. Gen. John Burgoyne, from 25 June to 24 Oct. He was engaged in the two Battles of Saratoga, 18 Sept. and 6 Oct.

On the day before the Capitulation at Saratoga on 14 Oct., 1777, he, with others, escaped and fled to Canada. By the terms of the Capitulation all soldiers of the Army, including Abraham Brown, were not to serve again during the war. He was, however, employed in various public works--naval yards, repair and building of defenses, etc.

When it was discovered that the Rebel Americans were not living up to the terms of Capitulation, the British re-formed the Loyalists into regiments. As a result, the remnants of several Loyalist regiments and companies were banded together to form the Loyal Rangers, under the command of Major Edward Jessup. Abraham Brown became a soldier in Major Edward Jessup's Company of this regiment, and served until the disbandment of the regiment on 24 Dec., 1783.

Early in 1778 the wives and children of Loyalists began to arrive in Canada. A provision list of June, 1778, reveals that Abraham Brown's wife, Sarah, and son, Edward, were at Sorel. Edward was then under ten years of age, drawing a half ration, likely meaning that he was about a year old.

Sarah Brown and son, Edward, next appear at Machiche, Que., in a provision list of 2 Dec., 1778.

In the provision list of 10 Aug., 1780, Sarah was at Machiche, with two children under twelve years of age. This likely means that the second son, Abraham, was born between December, 1778 and August, 1780.

The next provision list, that of Nov., 1783, shows that there were two more children, a son and a daughter, both under six years of age--a total of three sons and one daughter.

On 6 June, 1784, Abraham Brown, wife and four children, departed in the Brig "St. Peter" for Chaleur Bay, Gaspé, where they settled on Crown Lands.

By 1802, Abraham Brown and most of his family had removed to Upper Canada, where they drew lands in the Brockville neighborhood (at Lynn?)

The following children of Abraham Brown drew lands as children of a Loyalist:

Edward, of Elizabethtown	200 acres by Order-in-Council, 23 Sep. 1800.
Benjamin, ditto	ditto 9 Mar. 1803.
Henry ditto	ditto 23 Feb. 1809
Daughter, of whom there is no record. She may have married in Chaleur Bay and remained there.

In a letter, dated 23 Feb., 1943, H. Orlo Miller, Box 571, London, Ont, advances this information:

"Abraham Brown was a U. E. L., settling first, in 1784, in Gaspé Peninsula, and later, about 1802, coming to Elizabethtown with his family, one of whom was Benjamin Vanamber Brown, a son. Benjamin's daughter, Sabra Sophia, married David Coleman."

Edward Brown, of Elizabethtown, married Sarah, daughter of Adam Cole and of Thankful Fulford. Sarah was born 16 Jan., 1785.

CELEBRATE 60TH ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. FRED BROWN will be 60 years married on Sunday, August 23. A well-known Centreville couple, Mr. and Mrs. Brown are 85 and 79 years of age respectively. Mr. Brown was warden of Lennox and Addington County in 1936.

MR. AND MRS. FRED BROWN Aug 19 1959

CENTREVILLE COUPLE WILL BE 60 YEARS WED AUG. 23

Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Brown, well-known Centreville couple, will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary on Sunday. They were married on August 23, 1899, at Enterprise.

Mr. Brown is a former warden of Lennox and Addington County. He held the office in 1936 while reeve of Camden Township. Now 85 years of age, he is still active in Centreville United Church, and so is Mrs. Brown, who is 79.

Frederick Richardson Brown is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richardson Brown, of the Enterprise district, who came originally from Ireland, and Mrs. Brown is the former Nellie Anne Deline, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lester Deline, of Petworth.

They have eight children, 40 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren and when the members of the family and those related by marriage are all together, the group totals 95.

The daughters are Mrs. Ed. Weese (Jennie), of Centreville; Mrs. Stewart Lochhead (Vida), of Port Colborne; Mrs. Bruce Weese (Anna), of Centreville.

The sons are: Harold Brown, of Enterprise; Ronald Brown, of Centreville; Lloyd Brown, of Tamworth; Robert Brown, Napanee, and Clarence Brown, Centreville.

Mr. Brown had seven brothers and sisters but only Mrs. Ethel Youmans, of Camden East, is still living.

Mrs. Brown came from a family of four boys and five girls but only three others are still alive: Mrs. Edna Brown and Lloyd and Otto Deline, all of Port Colborne.

nett, Claude Fox, Ross Lasher, Garnet Hart, Ted Wilde and Ford Rombough.

MRS. FRED REED

Wilton. — The funeral service of Mrs. Fred Reed, Wilton, was held at the Ross Jones Funeral Home, Odessa, on Thursday afternoon, August 13, with Rev. J. M. Stone, of Deseronto, minister of the Deseronto - Camden East Presbyterian churches, officiating. He spoke comforting words to the mourners and took his text from St. John 11: verse 25. Pall-bearers who also acted as flower-bearers were: Neil Forsyth, Robert Stewart, Robert Deyo, Everett Huff, Bruce Burt and Donald Burt.

Deceased was born at Wilton, the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Simmons. She would have been 66 years of age if she had lived till August 15. Her death came suddenly, early on Tuesday morning, August 11.

Most of her life had been spent in Wilton and district, with the exception of a few years of her early married life, who held a divine service on Wednesday evening at the funeral home. She was a Presbyterian and was a faithful church worker, serving as organist and as a member of the choir, during her early life.

A devoted wife and mother, she leaves to mourn her husband, Fred Reed, four daughters, Mrs. Tom Hare (Mona), of Wilton; Mrs. Harold Pickering (Hilda), of Odessa; Mrs. Frank Wade (Edna), in England, and Zella, of Kingston; and one son, Walter, at home. Another son, Paul, died in infancy. She also leaves two brothers, James Simmons, of Syracuse, N.Y., and Will Simmons, of Clearwater, Florida, and four grandchildren. Two sisters, Mrs. Henry Murphy, Kingston, and Mrs. Harvey Mills, Jr., of Wilton, pre-deceased her.

Burial took place in the family plot in Wilton Cemetery.

Dear friend:

Compliments of the Season!

I am returning herewith your Brown family history. I found it very interesting, but not of the family of my great-great grandmother, damn it! I suppose I shall still go on looking, and maybe I shall come on my family when I least expect it.

While I am on that subject, I find a few errors in the story of your family, at least, they do not agree with what I have. Some time when you are along this way, come in and we will go into the matter to see if it can be straightened out.

Your applications for membership have been accepted at our Executive Council meeting. The voting on Jan. 2nd meeting in Picton will be a formality. I suppose that by now you have had a letter from the President, inviting you to be present at that meeting. Come, if you can, both of you, of course.

Kindest regards to Mrs. Aney.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

On receipt of your letter of the 1st inst., I wrote to Dr. Talman (who has the U. E. data at present) and asked for the information you wished. His reply is that the only cards are for the Frasers and the Browns "and the Browns of the Midland District would take hours to copy." He is overwhelmed with work, summer school lecturing, military duties and courses, preparations for next year's university work, family illness, &c., &c., so that he really cannot find a moment just now to attend to it. If things clear up later, he will do what he can.

Enclosed are a few items I've come across. You probably have these, as most of them are from the Ontario Historical Society's Papers and Records," Vol. 1.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Major Burleigh:

Many thanks for the report on the Bath Historical Society. I did not send you the form, for Miss McClung had told me that ^{she thought} you were out of the community.

My recollection of your enquiry regarding the Brown family was that you wanted more than those who were in Ernesttown Township. There are, as you might expect, a great many in the different townships around that area. However, there appears to have been only one Brown family in Ernesttown. The original was John Brown, of Kingston. His children were as follows:

- d. Susan, m. John Jenkins of Ernesttown March 3, 1812
- d. Margaret, m. George Storms of Ernesttown
- s. David of Ernesttown
- s. Henry of Ernesttown
- s. Samuel of Ernesttown
- d. Jane
- d. Polly, m. William Tryan of Ernesttown

The Order in Council for all these children was dated March 9, 1843.

I hope that this is the information which you need.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. H. C. Burleigh
BATH,

Dear Sir:

You may recall having some correspondence with me a few years ago regarding the Nugent Family. Your kind assistance at that time emboldens me to come to you again for help.

This time I am trying to find out something about the families of Coleman and Brown, early settlers in Leeds and Grenville Counties. Three brothers -- Richard, Abel and David Coleman came to Upper Canada shortly after the American Revolutionary War and settled in or near the village of Lyn, at one time known as Coleman's Corners, in the Township of Elizabethtown. They may, or may not have been United Empire Loyalists.

Abraham Brown was an U.E.L., settling first, in 1784, in the Gaspé peninsula and later, about 1802, coming to Elizabethtown with his family, one of whom was Benjamin Vanamber Brown, a son. Benjamin's daughter married David Coleman. Her name was Sabra Sophia.

Now, it is my information that the Browns were probably Methodists and some of the Colemans may have been, also. I have had the Anglican registers at the Diocese offices at Kingston searched but have found nothing of value to this hunt.

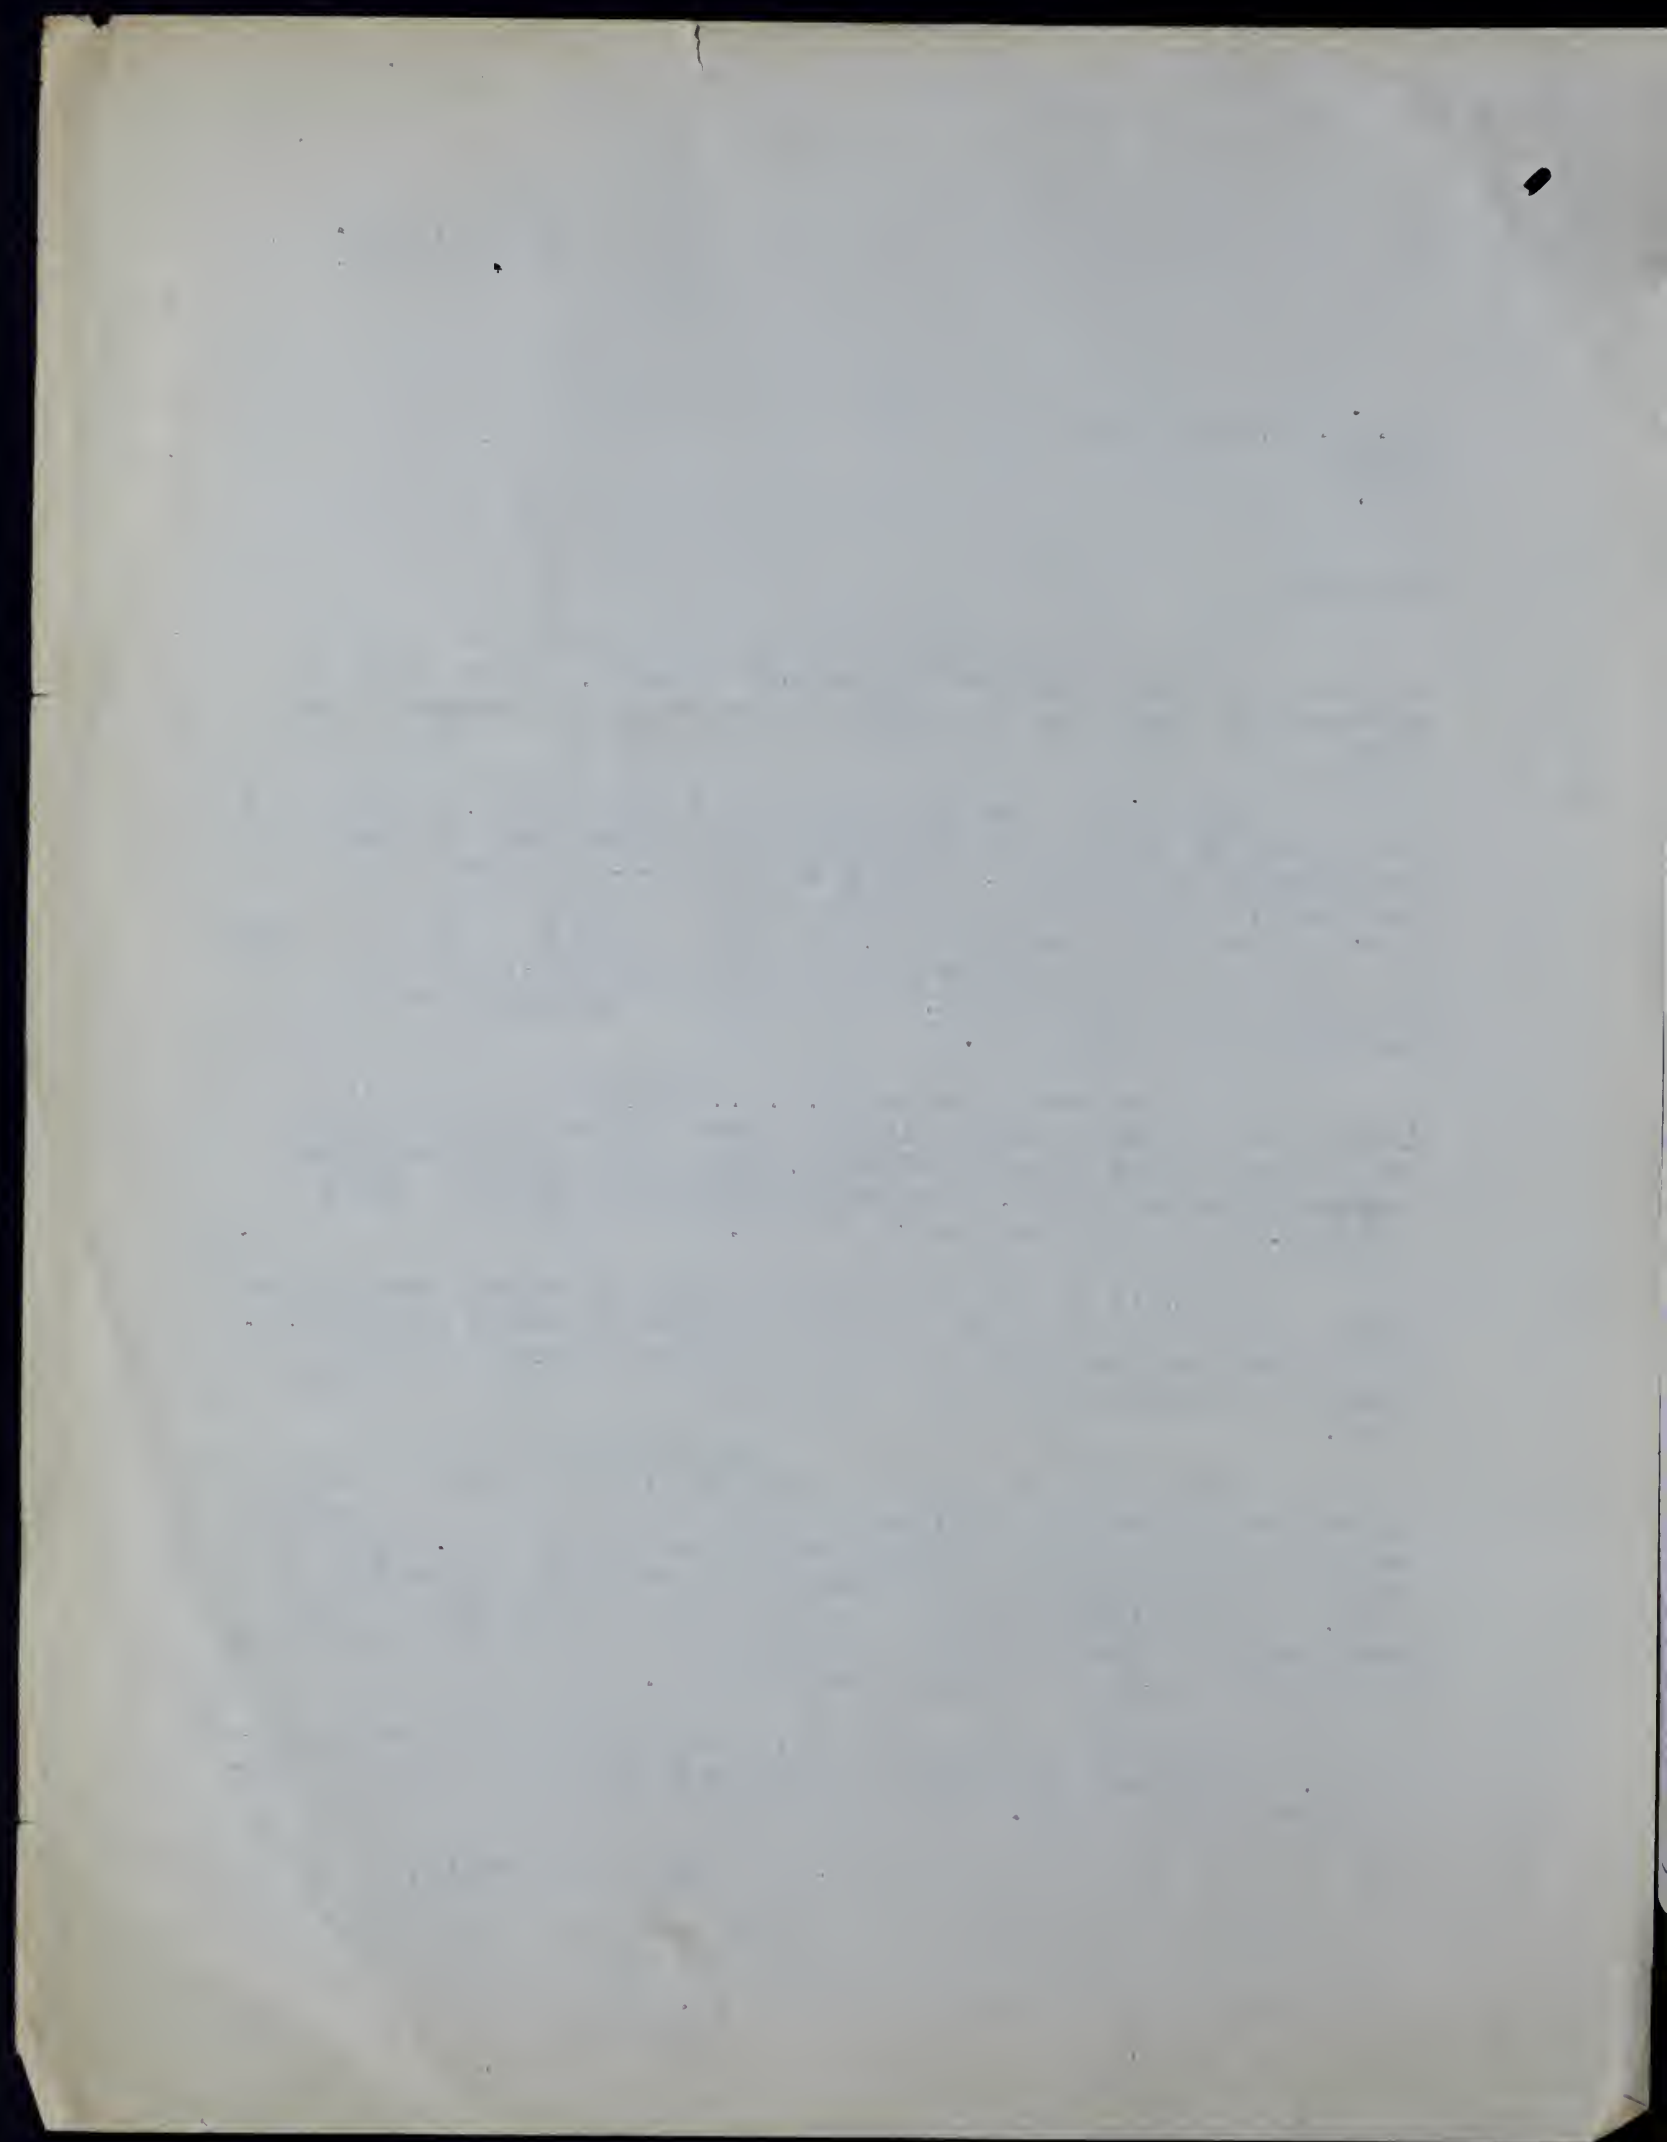

I understand that you have copies of many of the church registers, of Anglican and other faiths, and it occurred to me that you might have some data regarding either or both of these families that would add to what I already have. I am interested in any data referring to any of the branches of these two families, but with particular reference to David Coleman and Sabra Sophia Brown.

Any assistance you can give me will be deeply appreciated. I enclose a stamped, addressed envelope for your convenience in replying.

Yours sincerely,

H. Orlo Miller.

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the cool breeze. It felt like a warm blanket after a long drive. The sun was just setting, painting the sky in shades of orange and pink. I took a deep breath, savoring the fresh air. The road ahead was clear, leading me to the destination I had been hoping for. The journey had been long, but it was worth it. I felt a sense of accomplishment and peace. The world around me seemed to be in harmony, and I was finally where I belonged.

As I walked along the path, I noticed the soft rustle of leaves under my feet. The trees were tall and slender, their branches reaching towards the sky. The air was filled with the scent of pine and earth. I felt a connection to nature, a sense of being part of something greater. The path led me through a forest of ancient trees, their trunks covered in moss and lichen. The light filtered through the canopy, creating a dappled pattern on the ground. I stopped for a moment, looking up at the towering trees. They had stood for centuries, witnessing the passage of time. I felt small in their presence, yet at the same time, I felt a sense of awe and wonder. The forest was a world of its own, a place of mystery and magic. I continued on my way, following the path as it wound through the woods. The sound of water trickling in the distance drew my attention. I followed the sound, and soon I found myself standing at the edge of a small stream. The water was crystal clear, reflecting the surrounding trees and sky. I sat on a rock, watching the water flow over smooth stones. The sound of the water was soothing, a gentle reminder of the flow of life. I stayed there for a while, letting the world around me wash over me. It was a moment of pure tranquility, a time when I was completely at one with nature.

GEORGE BROWN

Former member of Portland Township Council and township assessor for 13 years, 91-year-old George Brown of Hartington died Saturday in Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were the township's oldest married couple, having celebrated their 64th wedding anniversary last March.

Mr. Brown passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Elmer Freeman, where he was spending the winter. The body was brought back here Saturday. Funeral took place this afternoon from the Berry funeral home in Sydenham. Interment was in Harrowsmith Cemetery.

Deceased was born in Camden Township, son of Cabel Brown and Percilla Brewer, whose father built the locks at Brewers Mills.

A carpenter and farmer, Mr. Brown had lived in Hartington for 58 years. He belonged to the United Church, formerly the Methodist Church.

Surviving are his wife, the former Lucy Segsworth, a daughter, Mrs. Freeman, one son, Morley, Hartington, one brother, Jonathan, Michigan, two sisters, Mrs. Elmer Raymond, Enterprise, and Mrs. Effie Loyst, Hartington, a half-brother, Allan of Murvale, six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Elizabeth watched Bill Devan-ter's. He was watching her worriedly. She tried to smile. Her hand crept up to indicate the still-fresh pine and holly corsage on her coat lapel. He nodded absent-
